SWEET TRANSPORTS
From the opera Rosina
William Shield

Sweet transports gentle wishes go - In vain his charms have - Since fortune still to love a foe and cruel duty bid us part. Ah why does duty chain the mind and part those souls which love has join'd Sweet transports gentle wish es go In vain his charms have gain'd my heart. Ah why does duty chain the mind and part those souls which love has join'd.

This song is no 3.09 in Gammie and McCulloch's 'Jane Austen's Music', transcribed in Jane Austen's hand. This transcription is by G. Dooley from the sheet music published by J. Hewitt, New York, and has been compared with Austen's manuscript and appears similar.
