Private Masterpiece

R.A. Simpson (1929–2002)

You turn on lights inside your head and after drawing in that mist soon decide how you must paint

Taking some brushes and primary colours you make a long and massive wash a spectrum fading into nowhere

This painting which you hope will last is now complete on silky nothing almost paper or is it air?

You watch it rolled and stored away somewhere beyond returning