3. Sergeant Roy C. Michell SX 6877 sent over a hundred letters to his wife Phyllis while he was fighting at Tobruk during 1941, but they were heavily censored leaving incomplete paragraphs, and incomprehensible sentences. Pete Michell, a Flinders acting graduate, is attempting to piece together his grandfather's letters to his grandmother, as he struggles to find the censored words, his grandfather seems to speak through him (5).