(2) Any moneys collected or received by an agent as rent, interest, principal, deposit, instalments, or other moneys whatsoever payable under any lease, mortgage, or contract for the sale of any land or business, shall be deemed to be moneys received by an agent in his capacity as an agent.

(3) Moneys received by an agent otherwise than in his capacity as an agent shall not be paid into the trust account.

(4) An agent shall not withdraw moneys paid by him into a trust account except for the purpose of completing the transaction in the course of which the moneys were received, or as otherwise authorized by this Act.

(5) An agent shall pay moneys withdrawn for the purpose of completing a transaction in the course of which they were received to the person or persons lawfully entitled thereto.

(8) A person who contravenes any provision of this section shall be guilty of an offence and liable to a penalty not exceeding one thousand dollars.

64. A bank shall be deemed not to be affected with notice of any specific trust to which moneys deposited in a trust account are subject, and shall not be bound to satisfy itself of the due application of those moneys but this section does not relieve the bank of any liability for negligence or any liability arising otherwise at common law or by statute.

65. (1) An agent shall, out of moneys paid into his trust account (whether so paid pursuant to this Act, the repealed Land Agents Act, or the repealed Business Agents Act,)

(a) on or before the prescribed day, invest in an interest-bearing trust security a sum that is not less than the prescribed proportion of the lowest balance of the trust account during the period of twelve months last preceding the prescribed day;

and

(b) not later than the last day of each successive period of twelve months after the prescribed day, invest such further sums in an interest-bearing trust security as may be necessary in order that the total amount then so invested is not less than the prescribed proportion of the lowest aggregate of the balance of the amount invested and the balance of his trust account during that period.

(2) Where an agent maintains two or more trust accounts, those accounts shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be a single trust account the balance of which is the aggregate of the respective balances of each of those trust accounts, but where an agent maintains, on the instructions of his principal, a separate trust account for the benefit of his principal, the balance of that account shall not be taken into account for the purposes of this section.

(3) If during the whole of the period of twelve months ending upon the thirtieth day of June in any year the balance of the trust account of an agent and the amount (if any) invested by him in any interest-bearing trust securities amount in aggregate to less than two thousand dollars, the agent shall during the succeeding period of twelve months, be exempt from the obligations of this section.
(4) If a trust account is maintained by a firm of agents, the trust account shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be the trust account of each member of the firm, and the members of the firm shall each be liable to perform the obligations imposed by this section, but the discharge by one member of the firm of his obligations in relation to the trust account shall be taken as a discharge by all members of the firm of their obligations in relation to the trust account.

(5) An investment of moneys in the interest-bearing trust security must be made upon condition that the investment may be realized upon demand, but an agent shall not realize any such security unless the moneys in his trust account are insufficient to satisfy the claims upon the trust moneys held by him that he is for the time being required to satisfy.

(6) Where moneys are derived from the realization by an agent of any interest-bearing trust security, the agent shall pay them forthwith into his trust account.

(7) In this section—

“the prescribed day” in relation to an agent whose trust account was established before the commencement of this Act, means the first day of July, 1974, and in relation to an agent whose trust account was not established before the commencement of this Act, means the first day of July next ensuing after the establishment of that account:

“the prescribed proportion” means a proportion of one-half or such lesser proportion as may be prescribed.

66. (1) An agent shall pay to the Board on or before the last day of February in each year all interest and accretions that have accrued to an interest-bearing trust security during the period of twelve months expiring on the thirty-first day of December of the last preceding year.

(2) If for any reason an agent realizes any interest-bearing trust security, he shall pay forthwith to the Board all interest that has accrued thereupon up to the day on which it is realized.

(3) The Board shall pay all moneys paid to it under this section into a banking account entitled the “Consolidated Interest Fund” which shall be operated in a manner determined by the Board.

(4) The Board may invest any moneys constituting, or forming part of, the consolidated interest fund in any trustee investments and shall pay any interest or accretions derived from any such investment into the consolidated interest fund.

(5) The Board may recover any moneys payable to it under this Part as a debt due to it in any court of competent jurisdiction.
67. (1) No action at law or in equity shall lie against the Board or an agent for any action done in compliance with this Part.

(2) This Part does not affect the interest or claim of any person beneficially entitled to trust moneys and any such interest or claim may be asserted and enforced as effectually as if this Part had not been enacted.

68. (1) In this Part "fiduciary default" means any defalcation, misappropriation or misapplication of trust moneys in the charge of an agent or firm of agents, whether committed by the agent or firm of agents, his or their employee, or any other person.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Part, the consolidated interest fund shall be held and applied for the purpose of compensating persons who suffer pecuniary loss from a fiduciary default.

(3) Where all legal or equitable claims in respect of a fiduciary default have been fully satisfied and—

(a) the agent, being under a legal or equitable obligation to do so, has made payment to any person in compensation for pecuniary loss suffered by him in consequence of the fiduciary default;

and

(b) the Board is satisfied that the agent has acted honestly and reasonably in all the circumstances of the case, the Board may, if it is satisfied that it is just and reasonable so to do, accept a claim from the agent in respect of that payment.

(4) The consolidated interest fund shall not be applied in respect of any fiduciary default occurring before the commencement of this Act.

69. (1) The Board may by notice published in a newspaper circulating generally throughout the State, fix a day, not earlier than three months after the publication of the notice, on or before which claims in respect of the fiduciary default of, or in relation to, any agent must be made.

(2) A claim for compensation from the consolidated interest fund must be in writing and lodged with the secretary on or before the day fixed by notice under subsection (1) of this section.

(3) A claim that is not made within the time prescribed by subsection (2) of this section shall be barred unless the Board otherwise determines.

(4) No action shall lie against the Board, or any member, officer or servant of the Board, or a publisher, in respect of the contents of a notice bona fide published under this section.

70. (1) Subject to this Part, the Board may allow and settle out of the consolidated interest fund any proper claims for compensation under this Part.
(2) If any person suffers pecuniary loss in consequence of any fiduciary default, and the Board disallows his claim in whole or in part, he may take action in the Supreme Court against the Board by originating summons (in which summons the defendant shall be cited as the "Consolidated Interest Fund" and not as the Board) to establish the validity of his claim.

(3) If the claimant satisfies the Supreme Court that he has a valid unsatisfied claim against an agent in respect of a fiduciary default, and he has taken all reasonable steps to obtain satisfaction of his claim, the Supreme Court may declare the validity of the claim, and order the Board to deal with it pursuant to this Part.

(4) No proceedings shall be brought under this section without the consent of the Board after the expiration of three months from the day on which a notice is served by the secretary, personally or by post, upon the claimant notifying him of the disallowance, or partial disallowance, of his claim, and informing him of the effect of this subsection, or in the case of a claimant whose whereabouts is unknown to the Board, or who has died and has no personal representative known to the Board, after the expiration of three months from the day on which such a notice is published in the Gazette.

(5) In any proceedings under this section, evidence of, or relating to, any admission or confession made by any person shall be admissible in evidence to prove a fiduciary default notwithstanding that the person by whom the admission or confession was made is not a party to the proceedings.

(6) If in any proceedings under this section the court is satisfied, on the balance of probabilities, that a fiduciary default has been committed, it may declare the validity of a claim notwithstanding that the fiduciary default constitutes a criminal offence, and that the evidence would not be sufficient to establish the guilt of a person charged with that offence.

(7) Any three Judges of the Supreme Court may make Rules of Court as to the procedure in any proceedings under this section.

71. (1) The Board may, in considering any claim made pursuant to this Part, by notice in writing served personally or by post upon any person, require that person, within the time specified in the notice, to deliver up any document in his possession or power relevant to the determination of the claim.

(2) A person shall not fail duly to comply with a notice served upon him pursuant to subsection (1) of this section.

Penalty: Two hundred dollars.

72. (1) The amount of a claim made pursuant to this Part shall not exceed the actual pecuniary loss suffered by the claimant in consequence of the fiduciary default less any amount that the claimant has received, or may reasonably be expected to receive, otherwise than from the consolidated interest fund, in reduction of that loss.

(2) If a valid claim made pursuant to this Part has not been satisfied as provided by this Part at the expiration of twelve months from the day on which it was lodged with the secretary, it shall then, to the extent to which it has not been so satisfied, be increased by interest at the rate of five per centum per annum from the expiration of that period.

(3) Subject to this section, the amount that may be applied by the Board towards satisfaction of all claims made in respect of the fiduciary defaults of, or relating to, an agent committed prior to the day fixed by notice under section 69 of this Act, shall not exceed ten per centum, or such other proportion as may be prescribed, of the balance of the consolidated interest fund, calculated to the nearest amount of one thousand dollars, as disclosed in the accounts of the consolidated interest fund, last audited before the proposed application of moneys towards satisfaction of the claims.

(4) Where the amount available to satisfy claims made under this Part does not permit the full satisfaction of the claims, the Board shall, subject to subsection (5) of this section, apportion that amount between the various claimants in such manner as it thinks just.

(5) Where the Board makes a payment pursuant to this section for the purpose of discharging a claim under this section, the claim in respect of which the payment is made shall be discharged notwithstanding that it may not have been satisfied in full by the payment.

(6) The Board may, with the approval of the Minister, make further subsequent payments to any person whose claim is not satisfied in full; or may make a payment to a person whose claim is barred, but any payment so made does not revive or re-instate a claim.

73. Where the Board has made any payment in compensation for loss suffered by any person in consequence of a fiduciary default, the Board is subrogated to the extent of the amount of the payment to the rights of the person who has been so compensated against a person who is liable at law or in equity for the fiduciary default.

74. Where the Board has made any payment in compensation for loss suffered by any person in consequence of a fiduciary default, the Board may recover, in any court of competent jurisdiction, the amount of the payment, as a debt due to it, from the person who would be liable at law or in equity, for the fiduciary default.

75. (1) The moneys required for the purposes of this Part shall be paid out of the consolidated interest fund.
(2) Any moneys paid to, or recovered by the Board in pursuance of any provision of this Part shall be paid into the consolidated interest fund.

76. (1) The Board shall keep proper accounts of all moneys received, disbursed, invested and otherwise dealt with under this Part.

(2) The Board shall cause the consolidated interest fund to be audited at least once in every calendar year by the Auditor-General.
