An Act to amend the "Roseworthy to Forrester’s Railway Act, 1866-7."

[Assented to, 19th December, 1867.]

WHEREAS, by the "Roseworthy to Forrester’s Railway Act, 1866-7," it is enacted that the Commissioner of Railways may make and maintain a line of railway from the Roseworthy Station, Section No. 70, Hundred of Mudla Wirra, to Section No. 986, in the Hundred of Gilbert, together with all proper works and conveniences connected therewith, as the same is delineated in the plans of the said railway, signed "W. Hanson, 12/11/66," and deposited in the office of the Surveyor-General, at Adelaide: And whereas it is expedient to authorise a deviation in the line of the said railway as delineated in the plans before mentioned: And whereas plans and sections of the proposed deviation, showing the line and levels thereof, together with books of reference, have been prepared and deposited in the office of the Surveyor-General, at Adelaide—Be it therefore Enacted, by the Governor-in-Chief of the Province of South Australia, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and House of Assembly of the said Province, in this present Parliament assembled, as follows:

1. This Act and the "Roseworthy to Forrester’s Railway Act, 1866-7," shall be incorporated and read together as forming one Act.

2. In making the line of railway by the said "Roseworthy to Forrester’s Railway Act, 1866-7," authorized to be constructed, the Commissioner of Railways may deviate from the line of the said railway... railway as delineated in the said plans signed "W. Hanson, 12/11/66," and may make and maintain the same, together with all proper works and conveniences connected therewith, according to the plan and section of such deviation in the line of the said railway signed "H. C. Mais, Engineer-in-Chief," the plan being dated 24/7/67, and the section 16/8/67, as the same are deposited in the office of the Surveyor-General, at Adelaide, the limits of such deviation being in the said plan and section colored pink; and, save as aforesaid, the said Commissioner shall make and maintain the said line of railway as by the said Act is provided.

In the name and on behalf of the Queen I hereby assent to this Act.

D. DALY, Governor.
