No. 1284.

An Act to enable the Recommendations of the Nomenclature Committee to be given effect to, and for other purposes.

[Assented to, November 8th, 1917.]

Be it Enacted by the Governor of the State of South Australia, with the advice and consent of the Parliament thereof, as follows:

1. This Act may be cited as the "Nomenclature Act, 1917."

2. (1) The Governor may cause to be compiled from the Report dated the tenth day of October, nineteen hundred and sixteen, of the Nomenclature Committee, a statement showing—

(a) the present names of all places the names of which the said Committee by the said Report recommended should be altered;

(b) where such places are respectively situated; and

(c) the new names recommended by the said Committee to be substituted as the respective names of such places, or such other new names as the Governor thinks proper to substitute as the respective names of such places.

(2) Such statement when compiled shall be published in the Government Gazette.

3. (1) After publication as mentioned in section 2 of the statement therein mentioned, the names respectively appearing in such statement as the new names of the places referred to therein shall thenceforth be used for all purposes as the names of such places.

(2) The
(2) The Governor may give directions for the publication of notices, the erection of signboards, or the taking of such other measures as he thinks desirable to give effect to the alterations provided for by the said statement, and in particular may give directions, by proclamation or Order in Council or otherwise, for better effectuating the suppression of the use of the present name and the encouragement of the use of the new name of—

(a) any county, hundred, or town, whether constituted under the Crown Lands Act, 1915, or any Act thereby repealed, or otherwise,

(b) any road or street, whether the same is situated within or outside the boundaries of a Municipality or District Council District, or

(c) any hill, lake, river, spring, cape, reef, pass, trigonometrical station, or other place referred to in the said statement.

(3) Any such directions shall have effect according to the tenor thereof.

4. (1) Without limiting the effect of any direction under subsection (2) of section 3, the alterations necessary in consequence of the adoption of the new place-names provided for by the statement published under section 2 shall be made—

i. in the public maps and plans in the Lands and Survey Office, by the Surveyor-General;

ii. in any plan deposited, enrolled or registered in the General Registry Office or the Lands Titles Registration Office, or forming part of or attached to any deed deposited, registered, or enrolled therein, or delineated in any duplicate certificate of title or other instrument of title or in any Register Book, by the Registrar-General of Deeds;

iii. in any statement or entry contained in any such deed or in any duplicate certificate of title or other instrument of title or in any Register Book, by the Registrar-General of Deeds.

(2) Subject as hereinafter provided, the Registrar-General of Deeds shall not be bound, in carrying out the duties imposed upon him by subsection (1) hereof, to require the production of any duplicate certificate of title or other instrument of title for the purpose of entering or making on the same any alteration which by the said subsection is required to be made thereon, but such alterations shall be made on such instruments as and when the same are voluntarily produced to the said Registrar-General for any purpose.

(3) The
(3) The Governor may by proclamation order the production to the Registrar-General of Deeds, within such time as is specified in the proclamation, of all duplicate certificates of title and other instruments of title whereon any alteration is by this section required to be entered or made.

(4) If any such duplicate certificate of title or other instrument of title is not so produced within such time, the said Registrar-General shall summon the registered proprietor, mortgagee, encumbrancee, or other person having the possession, custody, or control thereof to produce the same for the purpose of enabling such alteration to be entered or made thereon, and such proprietor, mortgagee, encumbrancee, or person shall thereupon produce the same, without any production or other fee being paid or payable to him therefor.

(5) Any summons issued by the said Registrar-General under the authority of this section may be in the form in the Twenty-second Schedule to the Real Property Act, 1886, and the provisions of section 227 of the said Act shall apply in the case of any refusal or neglect to obey or comply with the requirements of any such summons.

5. After publication as mentioned in section 2 of the statement therein mentioned, no name appearing therein as the present name of a place whose name is recommended to be altered shall be used or shall appear, whether as the personal address of any person or for any other purpose, in any document lodged under or issued in pursuance of the Real Property Act, 1886, or any other Act, or lodged or filed in or issued out of any Court of law.

6. Nothing hereinbefore contained shall be construed to limit or in any wise affect any power or authority to make or to give effect to the alterations recommended by the said Committee in their said Report, or to make or to give effect to any other alterations of place-names, which may exist apart from this Act.

7. (1) The Governor may, from time to time, by proclamation, alter any place-name which he deems to be of enemy origin to some other name specified in the proclamation.

(2) Such alteration may thereupon be given effect to in the same manner and the same results shall follow in all respects as if the said alteration had been recommended by the said Committee and included in the statement published pursuant to section 2.

(3) For the purposes of this section "enemy origin" means derived directly or indirectly from a name associated with any country with which His Majesty is at the time of the passing of this Act at war.

8. (1) The
8° GEORGII V, No. 1284.

Nomenclature Act.—1917.

8. (1) The Governor may from time to time, pursuant to addresses from both Houses of Parliament passed during the same Session, by proclamation alter the present name of any place the name of which the said Committee by its Report dated the sixth day of November, nineteen hundred and sixteen, recommended should be altered, or the present name of any other place whatsoever.

(2) The new name of such place shall be such name as is prayed for by such addresses and shall be specified in the proclamation.

(3) Such alteration may thereupon be given effect to in the same manner, and the same results shall follow in all respects, as if the said alteration had been recommended by the said Committee and included in the statement published pursuant to section 2.

In the name and on behalf of His Majesty, I hereby assent to this Bill.
