CARCLEW ART CENTRE

Carclew is to be expanded into a multi-activity art centre for young people through much greater financial assistance from the State Government and the appointment of three permanent staff, the Premier, Mr. Dunstan, announced today.

A new board of management has been appointed for Carclew and the centre's aim is now to provide a very much wider range of activities for young people up to 17 years of age from all parts of Adelaide, and from all income groups. Children from single parent families and low income groups will be especially catered for.

Mr. Dunstan said the head of the new board was Mrs. Ruby Litchfield and the members were - Mr. Jim Giles (Assistant Director of Primary Education), Mr. Tony Welsh (Arts Development Branch of the Premier's Department), Mr. Ian Brown (Adelaide architect and theatre consultant), Mr. Ken Jamieson (community music advisor and Australia Council representative), Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald (who has been involved with the centre for many years, and Mr. Rod Hand (Department of Tourism, Recreation and Sport).

Ms. Sue Averay, the newly appointed Artistic Co-ordinator at the centre will be the staff representative on the board until the election of a permanent staff representative.

Carclew's new full time administrator, Mr. Rob Downing, will be the board's secretary.

Mr. Dunstan said Carclew's activities had previously concentrated on drama and craft, The Cabinet's decision to expand the centre would enable very many other activities such as music, dance and puppetry to be undertaken.

Mr. Dunstan said he hoped the classes for many of these activities would start in the first week of July. Activities in drama, film and video would begin in August and a special "Introducing Carclew Week" would be held that month.
