NATIONAL WAGE DECISION

The Premier, Mr. Dunstan, said today that the decision to apply a 3.6% increase to all award wages and salaries was estimated to cost the South Australian Government $21.6M in a full year based on the present scope of Government operations. Of this sum, the estimated cost to the revenue budget was $18M.

However, the cost to the Government of giving effect to the courts decision would be reduced by the proposed transfer of the non-urban railway system to the Australian Government.

The Premier said that the application of the increase as from the first pay period commencing after May 15 was estimated to cost $2.5M this year, of which $2.1M was the likely cost to the revenue budget.
