Period for exercise of powers.

5. On the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, or at the end of such further time (if any), not exceeding three years thereafter, as the Governor, by Proclamation in the Government Gazette, may see fit to allow, the powers of erection and construction hereby conferred on the Commissioner shall cease to be exercisable so far as the construction of wharves on the waste lands of the Crown marked A is concerned.

And with such consent such wharves may be constructed, extending further into the stream than is shown in the Schedule hereto: Provided that plans showing such extension shall have been first laid before Parliament; and in the event of any such extension the provisions of this Act shall apply to the additional waste lands included by such extension as well as to the blocks shown in the Schedule hereto.
